Frequently Asked Questions:

Is my entry considered Fine Art or Home Art?

Fine Art is any visual art considered to have been created primarily for esthetic, and intellectual purposes and judged for its beauty and meaningfulness. To be successful in this distinction, the artwork must demonstrate originality, artistic technique, and quality execution. Functional art, applied arts, crafts and similar items should be submitted to the Home Arts Department. Unfortunately, due to the number of entries, if a submission is not considered Fine Art, it will not be automatically transferred to the Home Art Department and will not be judged or displayed.

How do I know which division to enter?

The Amateur Division includes any artist who has not previously, and does not currently sell their artwork. The Professional Division is for artists who have previously, or do currently sell their artwork.

How do I know which class to enter?

Artwork classes are categorized by medium. Each entry must correspond to an existing class. Some general guidelines include: If the entry contains more than one medium, it should be entered into the Mixed Media class. If the entry is 3 dimensional (excluding ceramics), it should be entered into the Sculpture class.

May I enter a piece into more than one class or division?

No, each entry must be for one division and one class.

If my art is sold at the Fair, how does that work?

The Arizona State Fair is proud to offer the opportunity for artwork to be displayed as well as sold at the Fair! If an entry is for sale, it must be clearly labeled as "for sale" on its entry tag as well as a price provided. Prices must be a specific amount; no ranges are permitted. There will be no negotiations between the buyer and the artist for sale price. Buyers are on a first come, first serve basis. Buyers will indicate which piece they would like to purchase and pay those monies to the Fine Arts Coordinator. The Fair will collect a 10% sale commission and the balance of the purchase price will be given to the artist at entry pick-up, or remitted within 60 days from the close of the Fair. Despite being sold, artwork must remain on display until the close of the Fair. Distributing the artwork to buyers will be the responsibility of the Fine Arts Coordinator.

When will entry forms be available and due?

Entry forms will be available online only and must be submitted through the online entry program. Once entered through program, exhibitor must submit a photo of their work for the 1st round of judging. Online entry is due September 10, 2021 at 10:59 pm.

Who are the judges?

The judges are Artists from the Arizona Art Community. Judges are selected based on their expertise within their category as well as their involvement with the Arizona Art Community.

How does judging work?

Judging is closed to the public. This is a two-tiered judging system. The first round of judging takes place online once photos of artwork has been submitted. Once first round of judging has taken place, exhibitors will be notified via email of their artwork's acceptance into the show. At this point, the artists who have passed the 1st round of judging will prepare and submit their artwork to the fair by the deadline. Once entries have been received and categorized, they will be anonymously submitted to the judges for review. Judges will use the American System and premiums will be limited to two per class. All judging is final. The judges may be available during the Fair for questions. If you are interested in being a judge for the 2021 State Fair, please contact the Coordinator of Fine Arts.

When will pieces need to be delivered to the Fair?

Once an entry has been accepted into the fair, the exhibitor will be responsible for delivering the physical artwork to the Fair Grounds between September 17 and September 18, 2021. Any entry that is delivered late, despite the acceptance of the entry will be rejected.

What are the requirements for my physical exhibit?

A qualifying entry must not be larger than 60 inches in any dimension, or weigh more than 50 pounds. All artwork must be delivered unpacked, framed and wired. If the nature of the piece permits it from being framed, it must be canvas wrapped and wired.

How will I know if I won an award or sold my piece?

Each entry that has placed or received an honorable mention will be displayed with its corresponding ribbon. If your piece is sold, you will be contacted by the Fine Arts Coordinator.

How much does it cost to enter?

In an effort to encourage as much participation as possible, entry fees are nominal at $5 for the Amateur Division, $15 for the Profession Division and $1 for the Person(s) with Disabilities Division.

How many pieces am I allowed to enter each year?

Each artist may enter a maximum of five pieces within each class; premiums are limited to the highest two within a class.

How is the Director’s Award awarded?

The Director’s award takes the 1st place entries within the 11 categories of art and judges them against each other. All 11 may not be awarded.

Isn’t art about self-expression; why are nudity and violence prohibited?

At the Arizona State Fair, we as artists understand and validate that some of the most profound and beautiful artworks throughout history have exemplified nudity or depicted violence. We are expecting over one million attendees this year from all ages and walks of life. In order to make our Fair goers feel safe and comfortable bringing their families through the exhibit, we ask that all subject matter be appropriate for children.

Where will my entry be displayed?

Fine Art Exhibits will be displayed in the northwest corner inside the Coliseum. The location of each entry will be determined by the Fine Arts Coordinator.
